

Project Update: January 2005

We have completed the first week of student training here at Cuc Phuong. Six university students took part and the course included a number of turtle related lectures and practical lessons including turtle identification, an introduction to the Asian Turtle Crisis, practical field skills, maps, compasses and GPS and of course radio telemetry.

