

Project Update: October 2017

During August 2017, thanks to funds provided by Rufford, we held an interdisciplinary workshop among the members of the work team. During the workshop, the proposed research plan and dissemination strategies were presented.

Based on this, fundamental criteria for future project activities were discussed and agreed. The workshop was very important because, in addition to allowing all members of the team to meet, it served to improve the original proposed plan.
