

Project Update: February 2018

Scientific efforts

From November 2017 to February 2018, depending on the weather conditions we did 30 land and five boat surveys. During our surveys in this period we encountered 24 groups of bottlenose dolphins. In winter, the most dominant behaviour for bottlenose dolphins was TR and DV in November and DV in December and January.

We promoted our work at national TV station at RTCG, and at Rufford Conference where we talked about a results and efforts during the realisation of this project.

Conservation efforts

In this period we had five beach cleaning campaigns in Ulcinj and Bar and also we were concentrated on preparation for 27th Rufford Conference in Bar, that was held between 3rd and 6th February 2018.
